Marvin Jones Is Honored Yesterday

Two Thousand Men From the Plains Gather in Conservation Meet

Congressman Marvin Jones was highly honored yesterday at a gathering of 2,000 people in Amarillo who were highly pleased with his work in putting over the conservation program for the Plains area.

Several members of congress were present to speak high praise for Congressman Jones. Scores of letters and telegrams were read from other congressmen and senators who were unable to be present.

The meeting turned out to be an overflow affair at the Herring Hotel in the morning as representative citizens came from five states to join in the praise of Mr. Jones.

Various governmental agencies were represented in the meeting, each pledging hearty co-operation in putting into effect the conservation program under the terms of the bill that was passed through congress by Mr. Jones.

A breakfast was held yesterday morning for the directors, representing 42 counties of this area.

A barbecue was held at noon, attended by more than 2,000 people.

Congressman Jones spoke at length yesterday afternoon, giving the details of water conservation, and explaining the splendid co-operation that he had received from members of congress and the people of the Plains.

Buffaloes Are Hard At Work For Hard Season

32 Men Report Monday to Coaches: Issued New Uniforms and Equipment Throughout

COACHES PLEASED

Line Coach Tony Dougal Is Popular With Men of Buff Squad

The Buffalo football squad has settled down to hard work this week getting ready for the first game on September 17.

Coach Al Baggett was absent Monday and Tuesday morning, but the squad of 32 men were put thru the hard practice periods by Assistant Coach Tony Dugal and Freshman Coach Bob Cox.

New equipment was issued to the men, but the wet field of Monday smeared the new uniforms until the men were hardly recognizable after the first few minutes of practice.

Dougal is making a real place for himself among the men of the squad. He is working the squad hard, but the fellows like it and like his treatment.

Two practices are being held daily, 1½ hours in the morning and 2 hours in the afternoon.

Coach Baggett has not announced the time of the first scrimmage, but this will likely take place Friday or Saturday. Fundamentals of the game are being given the men this week, together with a large number of plays which will be used in the opening games.

In addition to witnessing the Chicago Bears and the All-Stars play Monday night, Coach Baggett attended a meeting of the rules committee.

Both Baggett and Dougal have expressed great pleasure in the enthusiasm and interest of the boys this week and predict a very successful season for the Buffaloes.

Season tickets for Buffalo games are on sale at Buffalo Drug and Jarrett Drug. For the seven home games, admission tickets with reserved seats are offered at $6.60. Admission for the seven home games at the gate will be $10.65 if tickets are bought for each game. Only 300 season tickets are being offered.

W. T. will open the fall term next Wednesday.

President J. A. Hill states that prospects are very good for a large attendance.

Revival Meeting to Start Sunday at Baptist Church

Rev. A. C. Huff of Tulia will preach at the revival meeting which starts next Sunday at the local Baptist Church, according to announcement of the pastor, Rev. J. R. Hicks. George Stokes of Plainview has been secured to lead the singing.

Rev. Huff is pastor of the Tulia Baptist Church and is well known in the Panhandle. Mr. Stokes will enroll next week as a student in W. T. and will assist with the music in the local church during the coming year.

The meeting will continue for two weeks, states Rev. Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond and children and Mrs. E. B. Anthony, also Mr. and Mrs. J. C Dowd and children returned Saturday from a week's tour of New Mexico. They visited many places of interest, including Carlsbad, White Sand Mountains and Elephant Butte Dam at Hot Springs.

Wheat Seed Loans Will Be Made Up To September 15

An extension of fifteen days on wheat seed loans was made last week, but the closing date has definitely been set for next Wednesday, Sept. 15th.

Farmers who have not made application for seed loans but desire such a loan from the government are urged to make the application this week. Mrs. James Cole is in charge of the loan office in the court house.

Call Made For 800 To Enroll in CCC the First October

800 boys, 17 to 23 years of age inclusive, single, unemployed and not regularly in school are wanted for CCC work the first of October. They must be free of criminal record and physically fit.

The regulations have been changed so that boys need not be from families on relief. A large percent of the October enlistment will be made of boys whose families do not have sufficient income for a normal standard of living, but are not on relief.

Applications should be made at once to Mrs. L. A. Donnell at the County Welfare office. No quota has been received for the county, but it is likely that a larger number than usual of unemployed boys will be accepted.

To Hold Meeting

REV. A. C. HUFF

Rev. A. C. Huff of Tulia will preach at the Baptist Church durin a Revival Meeting which starts Sunday.

Rain Covers All Parts of Plains

2.06 Inches of Rain Is Received in Canyon Since First Fall on Saturday

COVERS ALL PLAINS

Excellent Moisture Is Received In Time To Plant Wheat Crop

The entire Plains was visited by rain since Saturday. The amount of moisture varied in different sections of the Plains, but from reports it is indicated that every section was visited by rain ranging from showers to almost cloud-bursts.

The moisture measured 2.06 inches in Canyon.

The first rain fell Saturday afternoon, with another good rain Saturday night. This amounted to .52 of an inch.

Rain Monday night measured .40 of an inch.

Tuesday afternoon .19 of an inch fell in Canyon.

The largest rain came yesterday when .95 of an inch fell in Canyon.

Some sections of the county received as much as 5 inches, according to reports received here this week.

Rain amounting to more than 3 inches fell south of Umbarger Saturday, bringing up the Tierra Blanca. Heavy rains continued to fall in this section of the county Monday and Tuesday.

The southeast part of the county also received heavy rains, which measure nearly 5 inches.

The Pierce community northwest of Canyon, and a section southeast of Canyon seem to have received the smallest amount of moisture. L. F. Moss of the Pierce community

Band Parents Will Meet Monday Nite Business Session

The Band Parents Assocation of the public schools will meet Monday night at 8:00 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

Officers will be elected for the coming year and plans made for the year's program. W. P. Sharman has been president of the organization during the past year.

Marshall Rienenschneider, new director of the band, is anxious to meet all of the band parents. The band will play a short program for the benefit of the parents present.

Canyon Schools Opened Monday

Large Enrollment Is Reported: Plenty Facilities For All Students

The Canyon Public Schools officially opened their 1937-38 school year Monday morning at 9 o'clock with an assembly program in which both the elementary and high school students participated.

The program opened with a short band concert under the direction of Marshall Rienenschneider, who also gave several piano selections. As a member of the Canyon Independent School Board, Dr. Harris M. Cook gave a short address of welcome to both the patrons and to the student body at large.

Judge Burney Slack, who is ex-officio county superintendent, talked briefly on the new county movement toward better education. This is being accomplished by the bringing of all county schools into Canyon where the students are given the benefit of better trained teachers and improved school facilities. Eight of the county schools are being brought into the Canyon High School system this year.

School Superintendent Irby Carruth made general announcements for the year. He introduced the patrons who were present, the new students, and the new members of the Canyon Schools faculty. Mr. Carruth welcomed the large number of county trustees who showed their interest in the new educational movement by being present at the opening exercises.

Classes have been meeting regularly this week, and enrollment figures as of Wednesday morning showed a total of 611 students, with 336 in the grades and 275 in the high school. But the facilities of the schools are adequate to care for many more without being at all crowded. It is probable that several more will enroll before the week is over.

ROTARY CLUB ENJOYS PICNIC THURSDAY NITE

Members of the Rotary Club and their wives enjoyed a picnic on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren Thursday night. A chicken dinner was served picnic style, following which an entertaining program was directed by Rotary Anns.

Nearly all of the 40 members of the club were present.

Seismograph Tests Made Over County

Crew of 15 Men Start Making Oil Tests, But Give No Information

A crew of 15 men moved to Randall county Friday to start work testing for oil, using the seismograph system.

Members of the crew will give no information as to the company they represent; how long they will be here; or any other information that they might have regarding the prospects of oil.

This method of testing is being used in every county on the plains. This crew has just completed tests over Hale and Castro counties. Other crews are working in Swisher, Briscoe and Deaf Smith counties. The crews usually spend about three months in a county.

It is believed that the big oil companies are making a scientific study of all the Panhandle with a view of future development.

Several test holes have been sunk in Randall county in years past, but all have been abandoned with reports that no oil was in evidence.

The seismograph method is being used by all of the big companies, since it is more accurate and less expensive than drilling test holes in territory that might produce oil.

No leasing has been reported in Randall county for several months, aside from efforts which have been made to form blocks for drilling purposes.

Work Stars on Building the Home Economics Cottage

Frank Jesse of Amarillo was awarded the contract for building the new home economics cottage on the campus of W. T. by the Board of Control last week. The contractor and architect M. O. Carder were here yesterday to locate the building site north of Cousins Hall. Construction will start as soon as materials are received.

The building will be brick veneer. About $1200 will remain of the $15,000 appropriated for the building to buy furniture, President J. A. Hill states.

C. R. Flesher left Sunday for Austin on a business trip.

Hi School Eagles Start Practice

Squad of 35 Men Greet Coach Emil Hutto: 7 Lettermen Return

Thirty-five high school boys answered the call of Coach Emil Hutto and are working hard daily to prepare for the first game against Dumas on Sept. 24.

Seven lettermen from last year's squad are back in school and form the frame work on which Hutto hopes to build a stronger team than represented the high school last year.

Four of the lettermen were star backfield men of last year's team, Captain Ray Ford Rusk, Co-captain Fairy Hill, Joe Gill and D. A. Butler. All were recognized as among the strongest men in the conference last year.

Three lettermen in the line are, Douglas Brasuel, Jimmie Carr and Jimmie Pope.

Coach Hutto is highly pleased with the freshmen material and the new boys who are in uniform this year for the first time. While few of them have played football, he believes that by the time the first game is played they will have a fair knowledge of the fundamentals of the game.

The first scrimmage will be held Friday afternoon.

Bridge North Of Canyon Over Spring Draw Is Completed

The bridge north of Canyon on highway 9 over Spring Draw is practically completed. Work of widening the bridge has been underway for several months. The work is being done by the State Highway Department with WPA labor from Canyon and Amarillo. E. H. Gohmert is in charge of the engineering.

The bridge was doubled in width, removing all possible dangers of accidents as cars come down the hill. Workmen are now completing the approaches of the bridge.

The crew is now working on the bridge over Palo Duro at the Wragge place. It will require several weeks' more of work to complete the widening of this bridge.

Another crew is working on the widening of the pavement through Canyon on No. 9. The pavement will be made 50 feet wide from the viaduct to Fourth Avenue.

State Parks Board Member Visited the Palo Duro Monday

K. N. Clapp of Lubbock, new member of the Texas State Parks Board, spent Monday visiting at the Palo Duro State Park. It was the first time that he had ever visited the Palo Duro, and he was highly impressed with the beauty of the park.

The Parks Board has been given added powers by the National Park Service, starting this month. The state organization was largely an advisory board during the past two years, but is now assuming more management of state parks.

Mr. Clapp was interested in getting the history of the Palo Duro, finding out how the state could be of assistance in improving the facilities, and is seeking to determine what the state will do with the park in the future.

LEAKING WATER PIPE CAUSES FLOOR REPAIRS

Several squares of concrete floor in the court house were replaced this week caused by a leaking water main.

A general overhauling of the water and sewer lines under the floor was made while the floor was being repaired.

Engineers Make Other Selection For the Dam Site

County Will Not Contribute to Construction of Dams and Lakes in Panhandle Area

MAKE WPA CAMP

Land Owners Are Asked For Options: Hinton Is Interviewed

Formal application was filed yesterday with WPA in Amarillo for the construction of Buffalo Dam south of Umbarger.

A special meeting of the Commissioners Court was held Monday, in which local citizens participated and all phases of the construction were discussed. The application was drawn so that the county is not pledged to any of the expense of the project, as is usually the case in such applications to WPA.

W. A. Warren, G. B. Heath, S. H. Condron and Clyde Warwick conferred Thursday afternoon with Carl Hinton and John McCarty in Amarillo where forms were received for the application. Buffalo Dam has been designated as No. 1 project under the special appropriation which was passed through congress by Congressman Marvin Jones. But the local men did not wish to overlook anything that might hold up action on the dam.

Wesley Baby Drowns In Watering Tank at Home Near Happy

The 19-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wesley was drown in a stock tank Saturday afternoon at their home 13 miles east of Happy. The little son, Donald Gene, was following Mrs. Wesley to the garden where she was at work. Missing the baby, Mrs. Wesley called to a daughter in the house. After a search the body was found in the stock tank, 2 feet deep and 8 feet in diameter.

Efforts to revive the baby were unsuccessful.

The funeral services were held at the Wayside church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Chas. Odem of Plainview. Interment in the Wayside Cemetery was directed by the Griggs-Thompson Funeral Home.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wesley, two sisters, Mrs. Orene Rogers of Happy, and Lola Wesley; five brothers, Charles, Carroll Wayne, Delbert, and Kenton Wesley.

Write Proposals on Small Dams At Once

Every land owner in Randall county who wishes a small dam built on his land must write a letter during the coming week to the County Planning Board, filing this letter as a request for the dam.

The Planning Board is composed of S. H. Condron, chairman; Clyde Warwick, precinct No. 1; Louis Wieck, precinct No. 2; Ross Craig, precinct No. 3; James E. Park, precinct No. 4.

Letters should be addressed to Mr. Condron.

This information must be given:

Legal description of quarter section on which dam or lake would be located; approximate height of dam; to whom the engineers should go when they view the site. This person should be the owner of the land, if possible, but if not possible, it must be some one who has authority from the owner to act.

It is believed that at least 100 small lakes and dams will be built in Randall county.

Land owners wishing one of these MUST act at once, according to W. A. Warren, vice president of the Panhandle Water Conservation Board.

Congressman Marvin Jones is home from Washington for a few days. He has called the members of the Committee on Agriculture to meet soon to begin work on a new agricultural bill which the President has promised to the farmers of the nation. Congressman Jones is the most powerful man in the nation today so far as farm aid is concerned. He has the ear and the confidence of the President. He agrees on most agricultural problems with the Department of Agriculture. Modestly he says of his work in the recent session of congress that he was "lucky." Chances are that he was so lucky in passing every measure that he introduced because he was absolutely right in his measures, and had the ability to impress upon congress the necessity and justness of the measures he sponsored. The Panhandle of Texas is indeed very fortunate to have the services of Marvin Jones. This section of Texas and the farmers of the United States as a whole will be fortunate if Marvin Jones is continued in Congress as long as he is willing to serve the people.

Texas used to have a state purchasing agent. The legislature became very dissatisfied with the actions of this agent, and it was proposed to establish the State Board of Control. Within the Board of Control a lot of departments have been created, and the legislature has dumped every function of government on this board which it does not have any other place to locate. John Wallace is an able member of the Board of Control. Governor Allred failed to re-appoint Wallace, but chose his friend, Tom Deberry, to take the place January 1st. Wallace now advocates the re-establishment of the state purchasing agent. Evidently the State Board of Control is not what it should be, judging from the testimony of one who has served on it. It has grown into one of the largest departments of government.

Governor Allred has called a special session of the legislature for September 27. Tax raising measures will be the only bills that will be submitted to the legislature. Many members of the legislature maintain that more taxes are unnecessary at this time. The state is now about fifteen million dollars in debt. The people of Texas recently approved additional constitutional amendments which will call for more money. The only method whereby the state may raise money is by taxation. Whenever the state spends a dollar, this money must be taken from the pockets of the tax payers. Unfortunately the methods of extraction of tax money has not kept up with the outgoing flow. The people have been called upon to approve or disapprove various measures of social security. Uniformly the proposals have been adopted, thus increasing the amount of money necessary to keep the state going. As a result the state must secure more money, or go farther in debt.

John Lewis is sputtering and fuming at President Roosevelt. He took to the radio Friday night to regale the Democratic leaders for not doing just as John told them to do. This is the most comforting word from Washington in several weeks, when John charges the Democrats for neglecting him and his sit-downers. John threatens starting a third party. Dr. Townsend and a lot of other misguided so-called leaders promised the same thing in times past. John Lewis is no fool. He will spout and fume around, but he knows that the Democratic party is the only political pot into which he can land and do any good. After telling his leaders what he thinks of the situation, John will feel better and settle down to a great extent.

The Star-Telegram is putting on a real campaign to raise funds by subscription in order to buy the land for the Big Bend National Park. Of course, it is hardly to be expected that a million dollars will be raised for this purpose, but with a sizeable amount of cash on hand, the promoters will go before the legislature and the Governor demanding the additional funds for the Park. The legislature passed an appropriations bill for $750,000 for this purpose during the regular session. Governor Allred vetoed the bill, owing to the financial condition of the state. A park the size of the one proposed, joined with the million acre tract on the Mexico side which is proposed to be thrown into the project, would make a most attractive spot in Texas.

The Canyon schools opened this week. W. T. will open on the 15th. The opportunity is opened for young people to attend school at home at the minimum cost. There are many young people in Canyon who will not take advantage of the splendid and unusual opportunities which are opened to them. In years to come they will greatly regret having thrown aside the golden opportunities to improve their minds. Many will become wards of the state because of their lack of training in the highly competitive fight of the commercial world. Go to school, young folks. Take advantage of the opportunities which are offered in Canyon. Making the best of the opportunities is the best investment that you can make.

The group of senators who have been opposing the President in hope that they may profit from a political standpoint are no duobt shocked to read from the last report of the American Institute of Public Opinion that the popularity of President Roosevelt has not greatly declined during this session of Congress. Today 60.4% of the people of this nation are for the President. When the court reform bill was proposed it was found that 65.5% of the people were for him. The terrific fight made by the opponents of court reform thought they had wrecked the popularity of the President. They were greatly surprised that the people had not been fooled by the battle.

Judge J. D. Moore of Austin makes a sensible suggestion in the transfer of cases in district court. When a change of venue is granted, it is always in some highly controversial suit in which a large number of witnesses are involved. Instead of changing the trial to another county, Judge Moore proposes that the law be changed so that the lawyers go to another county, select a jury, and bring the 12 men back to hear the case in the county of original jurisdiction. Expenses would be paid only for the jurors, whereas in many cases as many as a hundred witnesses are called and the cost bill runs very high. The legislature should seriously consider this court reform.

It is now proposed that Senator LaFollette be nominated for president on the Democratic ticket. The distinguished senator from Wisconsin is more a Democrat than a Republican. He is a close friend of President Roosevelt, and one of the New Deal's staunchest supporters. He is strong with the common people of the nation. Perhaps the suggestion is not such a wild one after all. The ultra conservatives will probably present Vice President John Garner, believing that in spite of his connection with and support of the New Deal that he is at heart against much of the President's program.

General Smedley D. Butler has seen war from every angle. He knows the China-Japan situation as well as any military man, and better than most American citizens. His advice is for Americans to get out of China and stay out. It would certainly be a most unhappy situation should a few Americans plunge this nation into another war by seeking to protect their investments in that unfortunate country. Police protection in this country costs the taxpayers far more than it should, but Uncle Sam cannot afford to continue as a policeman in a waring situation such as China.

The government is borrowing money at a fraction of 1%, and will loan money to banks at 1½%. The cheapest commodity in the United States today is money. These low rates of interest work a distinct hardship upon those who must live upon their small investments. Those who have small investments, or make small loans have seen the interest rates drop to a pitiful low mark. Living from the exclusive source of small investments has created a real hardship on thousands of men and women in this nation.

The United States finds its hands tied so far as neutrality is concerned in the Chinese-Japanese undeclared war. If neutrality is imposed, those engaged in war would be forced to come to our shores if they wished to buy, and to haul away the stuff at their own risk. The Japs have ships. The Chinese have no ships. The sympathy of this nation is with the Chinese. Americans generally would like to see the Japs blown out of China. Under such circumstances, the neutrality act of the United States is a very useless affair.

Such impudence! A senator from Louisiana solemnly told the people of his state last week upon the occasion of celebrating the birthday of Huey Long that the President was following Hooey's example. The two men were compared as being equal. While Hooey was supreme in Louisiana, Roosevelt was unpopular to a great extent. Now that Hooey is dead, the senator seeks some excuse of becoming an ardent Roosevelt follower, as the people of the state point in that direction.

The pressure may be put on those who owe the state delinquent taxes. A group of state senators who are investigating conditions in the state, propose to turn all delinquent taxes over to the old age assistance fund. It is believed that if those who are on the assistance rolls would go after the delinquent taxpayers in each community several million dollars of taxes would be paid in short order. Nothing is like pressure when it comes to this tax problem.

The CCC is making a call for young men to enroll by the first of October. CCC is among the few governmental agencies which has largely escaped criticism. Young men who are eligible should take advantage of the offer to do useful work in the nation, receiving a fair compensation and good treatment.

The Hereford Brand did the unusual once more by issuing a 56-page irrigation and rural electrification edition last week. The Brand is one of the leading newspapers in Texas, and has published a number of most unusual editions.

A FEW COMMENTS on electric cookery*

"THE COOLNESS of electric cookery appeals to me. It simply cannot heat your kitchen because the thick insulation of my Westinghouse keeps the heat in the oven where it belongs."

"THE CLEANLINESS of my Westinghouse range is its big feature. No pots and pans to scour . . . my curtains remain fresh because there is no smoke or soot."

"THE ECONOMY of Westinghouse is essential to my budget—not only to buy but to operate. The savings as well as the delicious flavor of the cheaper cuts of meat will surprise you."

"THE POSITIVE RESULTS of my Westinghouse is uncanny. I thought the oven timer was just a gadget but now it is a necessity in case I forget or want to leave the house."

International League Teams Call It Quits as Newark Bears Race Toward New Record

BY IRVING DIX

A GOOD hard-working alarmist who's right up on his toes, might find in the Newark Bears the germ of a swell idea, to wit, and viz:

The Newark Bears are just too doggoned good for the rest of the International League, and soon, maybe, the other seven clubs will call in a board of mediation to see what can be done about restoring the loop to old-time normalcy.

Nothing more than a hasty glance at the cold-blooded standings is needed to prove it's practically no contest. Out in front by approximately 25 games, the Bears long since have been conceded the pennant. What's worrying them now is whether or not they're going to break the all-time record for winning margins in organized baseball.

Back in 1920 St. Paul won the American Association flag with a 28½-game lead over its closest rival. The Bears have an idea they'd like to push that up to 30 and there appears to be nothing in the way to stop them.

The International League season had been under way only a few weeks when it became apparent that Manager Oscar Vitt's boys were headed for the top of the heap. And now, possessing a lead such as baseball hasn't seen in years, not a few of the experts are calling the Bears one of the greatest minor league clubs of all time.

The reasons?

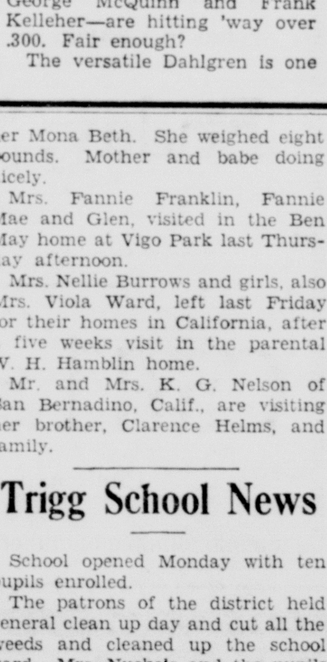
IT might be well to begin with the New York Yankees. It so happens that the Bears are part of the Yankee farm system, and it's almost a case of the hired hands having as much polish and finesse as their employers.

Backed by Col. Jake Ruppert's



Oscar Vitt . . . leads his Bears to pennant den.

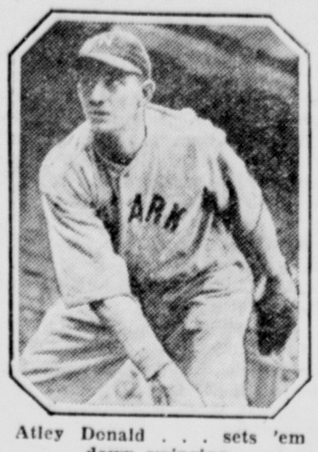
well-filled purse, and aided with a judicious move now and then by Joe McCarthy, the Bears manage to get along.

They've got pitching and they've got punch at the plate, and if there's anything else you'd like to have they've probably got it.

Baltimore sports writers recently picked an all-star International League team. Seven of the nine players were from Newark. Six of the Bears' regulars—Will Hershberger, Bud Rosar, Charlie Keller, Babe Dahlgren, George McQuinn and Frank Kelleher—are hitting 'way over .300. Fair enough?

The versatile Dahlgren is one

Will Hershberger . . . a fat batting average.



Atley Donald . . . sets 'em down swinging.

of the big-league castoffs who is providing a good bit of the spark in the Bears' drive. Dahlgren, who has been with the Red Sox and Yanks, has proved to be the most valuable man in the Bears' infield. A first baseman by trade, Babe hiked across the diamond to the hot corner, when George McQuinn demonstrated he could hold down first base well enough to permit an experiment in the interests of more balanced strength.

AND then there is the pitching staff. Steve Sundra, Joe Beggs and Atley Donald have won more than 45 games between them. Vito Tamulis and Spurgeon Chandler, a couple of hand-downs from the Yanks, round out the big five of Oscar Vitt's mound corps. You can count the batters on the thumbs of one hand who've fattened their batting averages on Newark pitching.

It's quite a feat when a ball club winds up the season with better than a .700 average. But the Bears want more than a .700 average. They want that 30-game margin.

And as we've mentioned before, who is there to say them nay?

'Uncovered Wagon' Chugs 22,000 Miles

Local Officers Join Traffic Control

Mayor Is Requested By Governor Allred To Assist In Work

In a letter made public today by Governor Allred, Mayor C. R. Burrow was asked to join other mayors in appointing a citizen's traffic safety council to co-operate with the statewide safety campaign of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee.

"I feel that the control of traffic is one of the greatest responsibilities that you and I share together," Governor Allred said in his letter to the Mayor. "For this reason I am writing you to urge your co-operation in this state and community drive for traffic safety."

The governor pointed out that the state committee of one hundred members appointed by him last March recently had concluded a study of traffic conditions in Texas, as well as the methods used successfully by other states in reducing traffic accidents. The conclusions and recommendations of the committee for the control of traffic in Texas have been compiled in a booklet, "Creating Safer Communities."

According to the governor, two definite conclusions were determined by the committee's investigations: first, that traffic accidents in Texas can be reduced drastically; second, that the most efficient approach to the problem is through state and city administrative control.

The traffic manual recommends the appointment by mayors of local councils patterned after the state committee setup, which plan has proved successful in other states. Education, engineering and enforcement would be the fundamental lines along which the traffic problem would be attacked.

The governor's committee announced that traffic exacted a toll of 2,000 lives in Texas last year, injured some 55,000, and caused approximately 30 million dollars in property damage.

"When we consider this appalling loss of life and property due to automobile accidents," the governor said, "we must concede that traffic conditions have become our major civic problem. It is not a problem alone of the state government, but one definitely of joint responsibility to be shared by the state and cities.

"Local officials must take the initiative in their communities and public support will back their efforts."

Big Crowd Expected at Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, Sept. 20-25

While major emphasis is placed on agriculture and livestock exhibits by the Tri-State Fair, other departments will not be neglected by the 1937 exposition, September 20-25.

"Exhibits in every department will be better than in many years," predicts O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager.

On top of all this the exposition has arranged the most elaborate entertainment program in its history.

There will be two performances daily of Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined circus, Beutler Brothers rodeo featuring several special performers every day, Crowley's United Show on the midway for their first Texas engagement and in front of the grandstand each night will be a spectacular revue that broke all attendance records during the Missouri state fair at Sedalia.

"As a matter of fact attendance records are being broken everywhere this year by state fairs and exposition officials believe the crystal celebration in Amarillo will be attended by the greatest crowds in the history of the association," said Taylor. "Everything points to an excellent exposition from every standpoint."

At the request of Khiva Temple in Amarillo, officials of the fair for the first time have consented to an advanced sale of tickets for two of the major attractions.

Bill Gilstrap, in charge of the Shrine sale, in turn is offering any civic organization, band or school 15 cents on each ticket sold in advance. The tickets are good for either the rodeo or night show in front of the grandstand.

Young Women of Littlefield Boost For County Fair

"The finest rodeo Lamb county has ever staged," is the way Benny Frances Dunn and Mildred Wiseman, special rodeo envoys from Littlefield, described the show which will be held in connection with the Lamb County Fair at Littlefield on Sept. 23-24-25. The young women were in Canyon Monday morning to advertise the Fair.

Thrilling performances that move with lightning rapidity will be guaranteed by Curley Daugherty, well known Lamb County rodeo man from Olton who has staged seven annual rodeos at Olton. Curley will be arena director.

Good money is being offered and a $100 saddle will be a special prize for the high point cowboy of the show. Other special prizes will be given to outstanding performers.

The show will be held in the new baseball park at Littlefield and will begin promptly at two o'clock each afternoon of the Fair. Curley Daugherty promises a fast performance with no delay to bore spectators.

The two charming young ladies from Littlefield have visited practically all the towns from Littlefield to Clovis, Amarillo to Lubbock to Brownfield and to Levelland calling on newspaper editors, Chambers of Commerce and city officials.

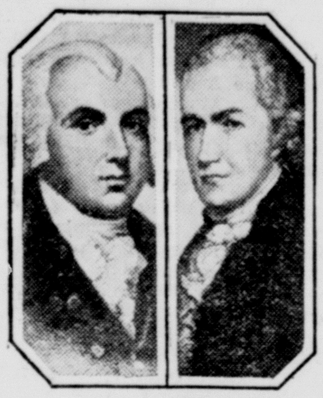
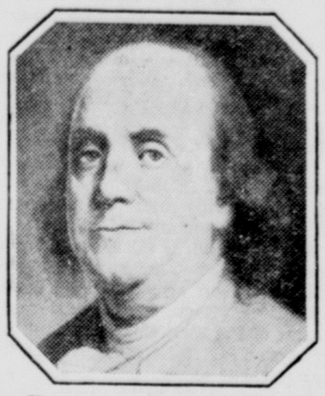
Nation, on Sept. 17, to Celebrate 150th Anniversary of Signing of Constitution

The reproduction of the famous painting, above, shows the 39 delegates who signed the Constitution as they gathered on the final day of the convention. Left is George Washington, who presided over the meeting, and right is Ben Franklin, whose wisdom played a big part in the drafting of the document. Two others whose efforts meant a great deal were James Madison, below left, and Alexander Hamilton, right.





"WE the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union—"

Few are the schoolboys and schoolgirls in the nation who cannot complete that famous quotation—the preamble to the Constitution.

It will take on added significance this fall when students go back to school, for America, on Sept. 17, will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, which ranks in equal importance with the Declaration of Independence as the most important document in our history.

It was a big responsibility that the Constitutional Convention assumed in May, 1787. The young nation that had just a few years before, wrested its independence from England, faced ruin. America under its first form of independent government—the Congress of Confederation—enjoyed little credit. Money was unstable, and the failure to cope with the finance and commerce of the time added to the confusion and poverty of those early days following the revolution.

A few leaders saw the need of a radical change. Alexander Hamilton was one of the first to suggest a Constitutional Convention to frame a new form of government.

THE Congress of Confederation finally issued a call for the convention at Philadelphia for May, 1787. Delegates were named by the respective states, with each state deciding the number it would send. Only Rhode Island, because of trouble arising out of an inflated currency, refused to send delegates.

For four months, during the heat of the summer, they worked diligently. Many delegates became disgusted and went home, some to look after neglected businesses, others because of personal reasons.

Led by George Washington, who presided over the meeting, Alexander Hamilton, James Madison, and Benjamin Franklin, the convention struggled on.

Compromises were necessary. Sectional differences over policy had to be ironed out.

The men who made up that convention in those post-revolutionary days were frankly experimental and adventuresome. They were lawyers, merchants, financiers, farmers and political leaders. But they had a common purpose.

Obtaining approval of the several states represented took adroit maneuvering. The far-thinking leaders prevailed. And on Sept. 17 the 39 delegates who were left of the 65 who were named to attend the convention signed the Constitution.

AS the venerable Franklin took the pen in hand he said: "Thus I consent . . . to this Constitution, because I expect no better, and because I am not sure that it is not the best."

Sent out to the electorate of the states for ratification, the Constitution was approved by all except Rhode Island. But more than the necessary majority had ratified it and in April of 1788 the all-important document which was to guide the destinies of the young nation, went into effect. Rhode Island finally ratified it in 1790.

Today, despite its amendments and criticisms, the Constitution, 150 years old, stands as a living monument to those early patriots who knew and administered the needs of their country.

"The Rest of the Record"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Quite a few of the newspapers have carried statements lately to the effect that we didn't need any new taxes. It's hard for me to understand this contention. When the Legislature met in regular session this year I told them that the general fund deficit would be approximately fifteen million dollars on August 31st. It has turned out to be just about that.

The trouble is, as I pointed out in my message to the regular session of the Legislature, that expenditures at that time (last January) exceeded income about two and a half million dollars per year. I specifically stated that I could not recommend increases in appropriations other than a little over a million dollars for the insane asylums and other eleemosynary institutions. In the face of these recommendations the Legislature increased appropriations approximately four million dollars per year and not a single penny of additional revenue was finally provided to take care of either the deficit or the increased appropriations.

In addition to the money necessary to wipe out the deficit and to take care of these increases in appropriations, I recommended that additional moneys be raised for old age assistance. This, too, was not done. I still think we need more money in the old age assistance fund to take care of many worthy cases. In my opinion, the trouble isn't so much with the law. We just need more money in the fund.

Besides we owe $1,627,000.00 on old age assistance warrants issued before the tax laws went into effect. Claude Teer, Chairman of the Commission, says we need more money for old age assistance. Unless new money is raised before the first of January, we are going to get into a tight and more people will have to be cut off.

Besides all this, the people recently adopted several constitutional amendments. I am sorry they didn't adopt the amendment to authorize the Legislature to pay public officers out of fees or salaries. This would have saved at least half a million dollars a year, but the people have spoken and I'm always willing to abide by the will of the majority.

Two amendments adopted authorize the State to completely cooperate with the Federal Government in its social security program. One authorized aid to the needy blind, and the other to dependent, neglected children. As yet I have no exact figures on how much aid to needy blind will cost, but aid to needy children is limited to one and a half million dollars a year for the State's part. In addition to this the people adopted the teachers' retirement amendment last year, and this is estimated to cost over two million dollars a year for the State's part.

Now all this adds up into millions. I'm the last person in the world to want to tax somebody, but when the people speak I think it's the duty of the Legislature and the Governor to carry out their wishes. The only way to raise this money is by taxation. It is painful, but necessary.

The argument is being made that improving business conditions will eliminate the necessity for new taxes. I hope business will continue to improve. Of course, Roger Babson is predicting another depression, but, in any event, business will not improve to such an extent that present taxes will take care of an existing deficit of fifteen million dollars, increased appropriations of four or five million dollars per year, over one and a half million dollars which the old age assistance fund owes on outstanding warrants, at least two million dollars new money to go in the old age assistance fund, one and a half million dollars for aid to dependent children, and several millions for aid to the blind and the teachers retirement fund.

The Legislature meets on September 27th, at which time I will make my recommendations as to how this money should be raised, and it will be in their hands. I am going to work on this job as hard as I did for repeal of the race track law, and hope you will help me with your moral support.

In view of the fact that all the big interests have unquestionably unloosed most of the recent propaganda against new taxes, and are having messages to that effect sent to members of the Legislature, I think the people had better get busy and let the senators and representatives know their views.

I don't want to call the Legislature in special session and accomplish nothing. I delayed the call until the people could vote on these amendments. Now it would be a great help to the cause of the people as a whole if you would see, or write, your representatives and senators and give them your views on the necessity of providing this revenue.

The money can be raised without substantial injury to anyone.

Texas is in a fortunate position as compared with most of the other states. Due to the wisdom of our forefathers in writing certain provisions of the Constitution, we have no great outstanding bonded indebtedness. We do not have a sales tax, a transaction tax, or anything of the sort so common in every state around us. I hope we never have to have these burdensome, or nuisance taxes, but the fact remains that we owe it to ourselves to balance the budget, to adequately provide for old age assistance and to raise money for placing the other constitutional amendments into effect at an early date. Do you agree with me?

If delays are dangerous, lawyers must be brave.

The extra power comes from the extra energy units added to every gallon by the patented POLYmerization process. In addition, this improved performance is protected against climatic changes because Phillips 66 Poly Gas is 100% custom-tailored.

It is a scientific fact that no other gasoline—not a single one—is so accurately matched to the month-to-month changes in your weather!

September, December, April, or June; every day in the year Phillips 66 Poly Gas is matched to the climate at the very place in which you are driving.

Remember, if you are interested in buying more miles of driving pleasure at rock-bottom cost, you have an appointment at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. Drive in . . . fill up . . . pay no more than the price of ordinary motor fuel—and then just feel that difference.

A VOLUNTEER

The preacher had just finished a sermon on the duties of wives to mother their husbands.

"I want every woman who will go home and mother her husband to stand up," he cried.

A little woman, who was known to be a trifle deaf, leaped to her feet.

"Ah," cried the preacher, "there is one woman who will mother her husband."

"Mother him?" cried the woman, sitting down again. "I thought you said 'smother him.'"

"Square Farming" Is Abandoned In "Round Country"

In many parts of the United States, farmers are abandoning "square" farming on naturally "round" land in favor of contour farming and strip cropping on the contour, as advocated by the Soil Conservation Service. Rectangular fields and straight fences and rows have often been the custom, even the mark, of a good farmer, wherever slopes were not too steep. Row right over the tops of hills, straight up and down slopes, created drainage channels and quickened erosion and increased soil and water losses. Farmers are finding that contour farming takes no more time, decreases erosion and run-off and requires less power.

Praise loudly; blame softly.—Catherine II.

TAXES, TAXES, TAXES!

Tax the farmer, tax his dad,
Tax what e'er he ever had;
If he's broke it's just too bad.
Tax him hard, 'till he looks sad.
Go ahead and tax the man.
Tax his dog and hired hand,
Tax his cow, tax her milk,
Tax his bed, tax his quilt,
Tax his pig, tax his pen,
Tax his flock, tax his hen,
Tax his corn, tax his wheat,
Tax his wagon, tax his squeak,
Tax his wife, tax his boy,
Tax whatever gives him joy,
Tax the baby, tax the crib,
Tax his all—who gives a fib?
Tax his goat, and tax his ass,
Tax his horses, tax his grass,
Tax his fiddle, tax his bow,
Tax what he intends to sow.
Remember the Forgotten Man,
In your so called taxing plan;
He has income so they say,
Most of which he ought to pay.
Tax the manufacturer, too;
He is more than getting through.
Tax the man who works for him,
'Fore his pay check gets too thin.
Tax his buildings, tax his chattels
Tax his Ford and all its rattles.
Tax his stock, tax his cash,
Tax him double if he's rash.
Tax his light, tax his power,
Add another five per cent,
Tax his payroll by the hower,
Tax whatever he has to sell,
If he hollers—TAX HIS YELL!

BORDEN means MILK the world around

"Borden" is a big name in the milk world.

Yet Borden is only one of 12 principal concerns purchasing milk according to a recent Federal Trade Commission report. These 12 companies combined handle only about 13% of all commercial milk purchased in this country. The total Borden purchases are less than 7% of the nation's commercial milk production.

Borden buys milk in fewer than half of the 48 states, but sells in almost every community in the civilized world. Borden salesmanship of milk and milk products and constant scientific research helps build a bigger market for all dairy farmers.

THRIFT is the best Protection for YOUTH

From the very dawn of history and among the most primitive of peoples one of the primary rules of existance has been to provide for the young. This basic emotion is present in modern peoples just as it was in their stone-age ancestors. Modern civilation, however, makes it essential that security be of a financial character. You will find this bank, through its courteous service and rock-like security, a definite aid to thrift which in turn will apply to providing a brighter future for your loved ones.

Duflot Talks On Community Organization Rotary Club

J. L. Duflot talked at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on Community Organization and Leadership. Mr. Duflot described society as a collection of groups of individuals who are interested along the same lines. In Canyon there are from 50 to 75 such groups. Nearly all citizens are interested in the activity of several of these groups.

Mr. Duflot described a recent visit to Legrange, Ill., in which he organized a commons, with representatives from about 125 groups in the city. These representatives hold regular meetings where all of the community problems are discussed and to a large degree settled. The representatives of groups bring to the meeting the ideas of the various groups and carry back to the groups the findings of the common's meeting. Mr. Duflot attended one of these meetings and heard the discussions. Personal opinions were submerged to the will of the majority.

Communities are well organized when all groups of citizens have a part in the conduct of the community. Communities are disorganized when decay is faster than growth.

The speaker referred to one problem in Canyon which should be subjected to community thought and action—the water rate. Two theories are advanced on this problem: 1. A high water rate in order to keep the tax rate low; 2. That taxes should be on property rather than on a utility as necessary as water.

Two types of leadership may be found in groups: 1. Dictator leadership, which demands what shall be done; 2. Democratic, which invites all interested to express an opinion and from the opinions formulates a solution of the problem. When a person's thoughts or ideas are accepted, in whole or in part, he has an incentive to do more thinking in terms of the community.

Visitors present were: Arch Hunsley, Arthur Osgood and Rex Jensen, all of Amarillo; Joe Duflot of Canyon.

Rain Covers

stated Tuesday he has received only light rain. J. W. Kleinschmidt stated Tuesday that only a quarter inch had fallen at his place southeast of Canyon.

The rains were very spotted all over the Plains, but in the three rains all sections received some moisture.

While the rain came too late to make grain on much of the row crop, it will develop fine feed.

Wheat farmers are jubilant over the prospects of planting, as most parts of the Plains received sufficient moisture for planting.

Mrs. E. M. Elliott Died at Son's Home In Dumas Sunday

Mrs. E. M. Elliott, 69 year old resident of the Zita Community, died at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning following a brief illness. Mrs. Elliott had been in poor health for the past year, but was able to be up and about. She was stricken with paralysis Friday morning and never regained consciousness before she passed away Monday.

Mrs. Elliott was at the home of her son, Sam Elliott, in Dumas when she died. Her other son and daughter, Boyd Elliott, and Mrs. Eula Watson, were vacationing in Colorado, and had taken the mother to Dumas while they were gone. They had not received word of their mother's death until returning home Tuesday evening.

Besides the two sons and daughter, three brothers and two sisters survive the deceased. They are Henry Russell of Roswell, Jesse Russell of San Angelo, and Dr. Robert Russell of Fort Worth, Mrs. Millie McLaren and Mrs. Lela Gantt, both of Roswell.

Mrs. Elliott was a native Texan and had lived in the Panhandle for 40 years moving to the family home in the Zita community in 1917.

Funeral services will be held from the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. R. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian Church of Amarillo. Rev. J. R. Hicks of Canyon will assist.

Interment will be in Llano Cemetery.

Store at Ralph Is Held Up; Money and Gas Taken By Men

The store at Ralph was held up Tuesday evening by two men who got away with the money on hand and filled up their car with gas before leaving.

The Clarence Boehning family, operators of the store, was at the evening meal when one man came in, flashed a gun and took the money in the store. Another man drove the car up, filled it with gasoline and the two drove south.

A fair description of the man entering the place was secured, but it was too dark to see the license number on the car as it went down the highway.

Sheriff Bob Barnett notified officers in surrounding towns but so far no man of the description of the thief has been located.

LITTLE DAMAGE FROM AUTO TURNING OVER

Wallace R. Clark and D. A. Shirley escaped from an auto wreck on their way to Corpus Christi without injury to themselves or serious damage to the car.

The road was being repaired near Fredericksburg and the workmen had not put up warning signs. Mr. Shirley was driving at a very moderate speed, and at a sharp turn was on the repair crew before the men knew of the danger.

The car went over the embankment so easy that neither of the men lost his hat. The car overturned, but with little damage.

Mr. Shirley returned home Thursday, but Mr. Clark will remain with his father at Corpus Christi until next week.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION HELD BY GAS COMPANY

Mr. Hinton has a copy of the engineers' reports which have been made on the project.

Resettlement Administration have had men in the field during the past week interviewing land owners and securing opinions on the land. No definite price has been agreed upon for land and this will likely be settled by Washington, or thru the course of arbitration.

Another group of four engineers arrived here Friday and have inspected all possible sites for the dam. So far no definite site has been selected. The original one south of Umbarger may be accepted, although certain engineers have recommended sites nearer Canyon. If one of these sites should finally be selected it would mean a narrower but deeper lake than the one proposed near Umbarger. These engineers state that work may be started within a month if the land purchase is completed and labor is secured from WPA.

When the formal application was discussed Monday, it was made clear to WPA that the projects on W. T. campus and the highway through Canyon should not be interferred with by transferring labor from these projects. It is believed that the campus projects will be completed by December.

It is likely that a labor camp will be established at the dam site owing to the fact that there is not sufficient labor in Randall county to do the job, and transportation would be too great to truck the men daily from Amarillo.

W. A. Warren was delegated Monday to assist Judge Burney Slack in drafting and filing the application for the dam.

Carl Hinton told the Canyon delegation that nothing definite was yet decided on the handling of the dust bowl money, but that Congressman Jones might be forced to go to the President to finally iron out the details.

DRAWN FOR FEDERAL GRAND JURY SERVICE

S. H. Condron was notified Saturday that he had been drawn to serve on the grand jury in federal court which opens Monday in Amarillo.

Mr. Condron states that as a student of government he welcomes the opportunity to serve on this body although the work may interfere with his duties in the opening of W. T. next Wednesday.
